

Take Care of Texas Water Conservation Radio PSA: Drop in the Bucket

Narrator

If every Texan, all 24 million of us, did our part to conserve water, just think how much we could save.

Simple things like: waiting to wash until you've got a full load of laundry or dishes, using water-efficient plumbing fixtures, and taking shorter showers, watering your lawn early in the morning to avoid excessive evaporation, installing rainwater collection barrels, and planting Texas native plants and grasses.

Saving water adds up and that's not just a drop in the bucket, that's money in your pocket. Visit TakeCareOfTexas.org to find more tips to save water and money.

Sponsored by the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality and aired in cooperation with the Texas Association of Broadcasters and this station.
